

2007 Archaeology Day Camp for Elementary Students

Instructor: Shawna Carroll, Professional Teacher, Director of Education CEU Prehistoric Museum

Camp Director: Shawna Carroll, Emery County Education Council

Assistance Instructors: CEU Educational Interns

Course Information:

Date: June 14th from 10:00 to 2:30

Cost: $12.00 per students Ages: K thru 6th grade
(Cost includes lunch and educational materials)

Location: Castle Dale Elementary

Course Description:

This day camp will be an exciting introduction into the world of archaeology. The camp will consist of 4 archaeology stations. Each participant will learn about Native American lifestyle, excavate a replica archaeology site, design and construct Native American objects, and design and take home a camp bandana.

Class size

This Archaeology Day Camp has a participant limit of 48 students.

Registration:

Registration forms can be printed out at: www.emerycounty.com. Registration Deadline is May 16th.

Sponsors:

This summer education camp experience is being sponsored by the Emery County Education Council and the CEU Prehistoric Museum, and the Emery County Economic Development Council.

Workshop Objective:

The Emery County Education Council is sponsoring several summer educational camps this year. These camps are open to all participants but specifically target students that show an aptitude for science, technology and the arts. The goal is to get students excited about the opportunities that are available in these fields and make learning fun. By offering a summer camp type atmosphere, educators can provide learning opportunities that are not typically available in the traditional classroom setting.